HARRISON

Easter Services—Grange Program—Harrison Returned from Hospital.

A large congregation enjoyed the Easter service at Calvary Community church, Sunday forenoon. Mrs. Frances Pitts sang a beautiful Easter solo. The pastor, Rev. Andrew Young, gave a short talk to the young people on "The Meaning of Easter". The regular sermon was on the subject, "A Christian on the threshold of Death". In the evening Mr. Young gave a short address with lantern slides. This was for the benefit of the church school and was on the Life of Christ. The prayer meeting last week was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burman on Front street.

Lakeside Grange worked the first and second degrees on sixteen candidates, Saturday evening at their regular meeting. The program was in charge of Mrs. Gladys Smith, the leader of the Grange in the contest. The program was:

Singing.....Ford Chorus

keeper for Clarence DeWitt.

EAST FRYEBURG
Sanborn Returned from Hospital—Mountain Road May Be Built.
Work has already begun on one of the bridges on the Intervale between here and Fryeburg.
The whist party at the hall was well attended Thursday evening. Whist, lunch and dancing until midnight. Another in two weeks.

Walter Sanborn returned from the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Portland, where he has been for three weeks, Sunday,
much improved in health.
Gilbert Smith tells us he has taken 213 porepumps this year and there are some left.

MY GRANDMA
I have a dear old Grandma.
Many years she is ninety-three.
I know you will agree
That we cannot help but love her.
She's so good and kind to all.
Never making any difference
Whether grown up, large or small.
Always thinking of her children.
Stewart sons and daughters five.
And her husband, Civil War veteran,
Sixteen years since Jesus called him.
And I know that dear old Grandma
Waits to join him, patiently.
MRS. RAYMOND McALLISTER.

Easter Services—Warren-Kittredge Marriage—George Granville Dead—Kiw-ians Entertained.

The early service, Easter morning, was held in the M. E. Church and called thirty-five worshippers. Mrs. Arthur Curdland led the services. Miss Mildred Stanley, pianist, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Walter Barnett. For the usual morning service, Mr. Callaghan selected two verses from the 20th chapter of St. John. "And when he so said, he showed unto them his hands, and his side, then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord. Then said Jesus to them, again, peace be unto you, as my Father hath sent me, even so I send you." The choir sang the anthem, "He is Risen," and the male quartet sang "Christ Arose." Mrs. Chamney during sang "Open the Gates." Mr.
Callaghan always has good sermons, but his hearers thought he spoke exceptionally fine. No doubt the subject was something to do with that impression.
The women, as well as the men, were happy to a higher level and risen to higher and always attainable.

Warren-Kittredge, a graduate of Portland High School, and John E. Warren of Portland Harbor were united in marriage at the afternoon of March 31st,
by Rev. Arthur Callaghan, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis. It was a sad wedding, the bride's grandmother, with whom away after a brief illness, March 23rd, and they were acting in accordance with her wishes if she could have spoken. Mr.

and Mrs. John Warren left for their home at Boothbay Harbor the evening of the day of their marriage, and the love of many friends went with them.

Since Mrs. Bachelder's passing, the two girls, Rita and Margaret, have been the light of Mr. Bachelder's home, on their brief week end fittings, from the Nassau Institute, Springvale.

Mrs. Alvin Stanley, who has been with friends in Portland, has returned home.

George Granville, a lifelong resident of this town, died suddenly from shock at his boarding place. Services were held April 4th at 2 p. m., by Rev. Arthur Callaghan, at his brother's home. When protection of the birds must have been his hobby, for it used to be known as the birds' paradise.

Then school hall opened its doors to the Kiwians and their friends, who found entertainment galore within their welcoming precincts. They were really enticed by the promise that the Macbeth Club would do their catering and that they would find it well worthwhile to have a seeing, hearing and speaking acquaintance with a man of action, who taking the part of the poor and needy, swung open the doors of a church and people's hearts, to such a degree that the church of the living God became a veritable refuge to the needy, furnished with warmth and comfort for soul and body, in a season of great stress and trouble. Hoping we are fully introduced to Rev. A. Poyell of Portland, we are now awaiting his pleasure as speaker of the evening, the while he impersonates characters from some of the works of our favorite author, Charles Dickens.

EAST SWEDEN

Clarence Clark, who has been cutting wood for Ray Kneeland, has finished his work here and started for his home in Westbrook. He has a small farm and plans to run a truck gardening business
the coming summer.

George Porter, whom we reported as running the D. T. Adams sap orchard, reports a poor sap season so far, says he thinks he did not tap early enough; but the snow was so deep it would have been hard to break through.

Our road commissioner, Ray H. Kneeland, with Ilan Smart helping, has been working on the town roads some of late dragging hills and where the frost is out enough, also looking after water courses and repairing bad places in general.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kneeland were in Bridgton, April 5. They went by auto and report traveling with car is rather slow and very hard work to get through the mud.

DENMARK

The C. E. Cobb family, also the LeGoff family, returned from Florida, last week.
Little Wallace Trow is very ill with whooping cough and complications.
George LeGoff has a new Chevrolet
roadster.

Hazel Wentworth who teaches in Berlin, N. H., is spending the Easter vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wentworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, Eleanor
Day and Warren Higgins spent Sunday
in Portland.

Mrs. Winfield Pendexter, is in poor health.
Mrs. Leon Jack and son, Chester, are spending the Easter recess at her mother's, Mrs. Dudley Perkins'.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Pendexter spent Monday in Portland.

A wealth of imagination is a fine thing. The only drawback is that it won't pay your bills.

BRIDGTON—SANDY CREEK

Lyman Otis of the University of New Hampshire is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Otis, South High street road.

Mrs. Gertrude Libby spent one afternoon
recently, at the Allen home.

U. S. Hartford has recovered from his recent illness and is out calling on his neighbors after being confined to the house all winter.

Mrs. Eva Libby is at work for Mr.
Mead on the Highlands.
Lincoln Burrell and Benj. Libby have finished cutting timber for Allie Pendexter.

Mrs. Herman Rolfe of the village worked for J. W. Durfee one day recently, cleaning his store.

Miss Florence Durfee has been spending a few days with her brother, J. W.
Durfee.

Merton Bryant of Standish spent Saturday night, March 25, with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Libby, on his way to Sweden, where he has work.

J. Arnold Merrill, our schoolmaster, has hired the place, so called, and will move there soon.
Mrs. Eva Libby and Mr. Long were at Mrs. Libby's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Emory Burrell's, Sunday, March 29.

Harry Shaw is at his son, Curtis', in Naples for a while.

Burton Shaw of Harrison visited his sisters, Mrs. Myrtle York and Mrs. Mus-sie Ross, recently.

Mrs. Robert Durfee and son, Gordon, spent the evening, recently, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Allen. Mrs.
Sadie Ward also called at the Allen home,
recently.

Treatment of flower seeds with mercuric
chloride in a 1-1000 solution will destroy many seedborne parasites and so help to prevent the common diseases of garden flowers, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Most flower seeds will stand soaking in this solution for one-half hour without injury. Shake or stir the solution containing the seeds frequently to keep air bubbles from preventing contact between the solution and the seeds. Rinse
the seeds in clean water after treatment.

Use only wooden glass or earthenware
vessels for the mercuric chloride solution.
The seed should be planted immediately after the treatment or it may begin to
rot. If prompt planting is not possible, the seed should be spread out thin
at once and dried thoroughly.

Chas. H. Brown, who lives at 184 Main St., South Paris, makes trellises to sell,
also cabinet work of all kinds. See ad.
in this issue.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Yes, we've got a letter from Sara Elizabeth True Brown, and she says she is writing from Maracabo, Yucatan. We are going to publish every Yucatan letter, regardless of injunctious and threats.

Decker & Goodwin are making a special drive, also special prices on eggs, until April 15th. Carroll says that he thinks eggs are at the lowest price they have been in many years. See ad in another column for details.

We have received the announcement of the engagement of Henry Davis Nadig of Norway, Me., and Miss Mildred Leavitt of Norway, Me. The wedding will take place in the summer and is the daughter of the Tamarack Talks which have been printed in the Advertiser.

Paul R. Sanborn of Fryeburg called Tuesday. He came by car through North Norway. Roads not bad. Fred Formally was in business in Bridgton. He did not come and finally came into possession of the Agave-Not Hotel on Smith St., Fryeburg. He has charge of the garage and the hotel. Both seem prosperous.

Articles are continually being brought to this office, seeking an owner. The latest is a man's black glove, which was picked up on Cottage Street. It is a pair of ladies' brown gloves, which were found on Deering Street by Lester Ford, and a gold colored watch, which was found on Main Street by Charles Osmstead.

South of town clock will have to be moved. There is a little more snow on the ground. It served as a target all day for some of the boys, and some of the girls, too, who delighted in throwing stones. They could throw to the limit of a certain number. Should have been quite an expensive target, but the fathers and should not be neglected.

A temporary paper dealing in all the news, says: "A daughter was born March 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spiller, at the local town meeting, Monday, the 15th, and they were to be the first of a new tractor." "What? What? And how so? We want all the news when it is new and when it is old and hope our foreman won't mind it." "Two much."

Charles W. Cooper of Buckfield was in town Tuesday. He was in his car by the time he left Hill and said his was about to be over the road and several places had to shovel out the snow to get through. Mr. Cooper has been making a trip this spring, but not near as usual as the sap did not run well. He had only about a third of last year's amount. He sold nine gallons at one time and could have sold more if he had it.

A letter written in long hand on Army stationery, Los Angeles, Cal., by S. H. Burdick, says: "Thanks for calling attention to my subscription to the Advertiser. Enclosed is check, $2.00, for renewal. Have been out here a month. Going home tomorrow."

We have a very interesting article entitled "Mostly About Florida," written by Edgar O. Spaulding of Harrison and Portland, which will soon appear in the Advertiser. Mr. Spaulding spent his summers in Harrison, where he operates a photographer's shop and as Fall approaches, he with his wife and daughter, start south for the winter. We have printed several articles regarding camp life and accounts of Mr. Spaulding's trips north and south, which were extremely interesting and you will find this article equally as interesting and instructive. Watch for it.

A man was heard to remark recently regarding the Advertiser with another weekly paper and said, "I don't read the ads in that paper—they have been the same ones for twenty years, but the Advertiser is not so—these change and you have to read it each week." That is true, the ads in the Advertiser do change regularly. Many of the advertisements change each week while others change every other week or nearly so. By so doing, you have the best and latest in advertising news and the merchant gets greater drawing power from his advertising.

Mrs. Mary J. Bennett, Maple Street, presented a bunch of old newspapers to our antique department. Copies of numerous state publications dated many years ago were preserved because of some outstanding event that appealed to Mrs. Bennett. The special centennial supplement of the Oxford County Advertiser published Sept. 1886, is represented in the lot. This carries eight pages of historical and biographical matter, being a valuable chronological of events in Norway during a century of growth. A bunch of Farmers' almanacs, the oldest dated 1839, yields treasures for the antiquarian.

Don Seitz writes: "Things are picking up a bit, I think, and will continue to do so unless something happens. There is plenty of money, but nothing extra, for it to do—which is what's the matter. I see the salmon are expected in Bangor pool and they are trying to bring them back into all the rivers. A noble undertaking, which I hope will succeed. The Churchman has wintered well. When do you start for the lakes? Joe still unmoved, I presume. Navigation to Albany opened last week on the Hudson."

MANY QUESTIONS—SOME NEWS

Has Fred started on the fishing trip yet, and did Don Seitz come to Norway this week? He is due to lecture this afternoon at a woman's club in Medford or Malden. Saw his name mentioned in the story of the sale of the World, published in the Editor and Publisher of March 7, and also a poem dedicated to the late great Joseph Pulitzer by Mildred Seitz. Did I send a Lynx paper carrying the story of Mrs. Brown being bitten on the right leg by a muskrat while she and another woman were on their way home from a theatre? Well, if I didn't, I'll have her get quite a bite—about two inches long, and into the bone. The rat jumped at her as he was crowded up against a wall, both women thinking the animal was a large cat until after the job was done. She had hospital treatment, and a doctor is still doing his bit on the wound, but she is coming along O. K.

We're going to have a big game on the night of May 22. I'm to do a lot of broadcasting and am to speak before the Lynx Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs to tell just what Lynx Press Club is, and what it does for its fellow beings. —O. W. Brown.

Phyllis McAllister has brought in a cloth hand bag, peach color and blue, which she found on Paris street.

Complaints continue to be sent in calling attention to boys destroying property. With the late snows, snow balling has caused a lot of trouble and others have made trouble by trampling the early snowdrifts. Boys should be boys, but not mischievous or destructive.

Paul A. F. Walter, vice president of the First National Bank of Santa Fe, N. M., who for many years has been an editor on Metropolitan papers, says: "In my conception of Heaven I always include a small town weekly which is free to criticize God and the Devil and his angels, and which makes enough to give its owner and editor a decent living."

Now, Brother Walter, you have said something! That is just what this paper has done for almost a half century. Yet all the way along we have had and still have trouble with some of our "first citizens." It wouldn't be a newspaper unless we did have it. See?

WALTER MAYNARD CACKLES

Big Salmon A-Jumping

Moose River opens May 1. Ice out now and fish are waiting. "Geese are now honking overhead, on their way North. The trout and salmon are beginning to jump in the river. High time, isn't it, for you to make your plans, along with the hundreds of other fishermen who visit Maine each year, to come here. Come early; heavy blankets on the beds and plenty of wood. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard invite you. Come." Yes, we will be there, but not until the bugs and mosquitoes are and we can ride in over the new Jackman-Rockwood state highway, which is due to be opened by July 1.

Fifty Years or More
That item about Fred Keith in a recent issue of the Advertiser interested me. I had often wondered as to his whereabouts and fortune. His father was the village stone-cutter, who lived next to the present Advertiser Office, adjacent to the river, and was Captain of the Norway Light Infantry.

Fred was then a little chap of some five years and of amazing precocity, possessing a fierce vocabulary which he used fluently to the delight of the loafers who did what they could to enlarge it.
I remember once he was driving up street by the office, when Fred, unperceived by him, ran out intent upon climbing into the high back wagon. The front wheel struck him; he was knocked down by it and run over by the wagon, and it by the back one as well. We ran out, expecting to find a badly injured kid, instead of which Fred rose up, quite undamaged, save a scratch to his forehead, and with rage, this addressed his parents: "G-d—d—d you! What did you want to run over me two times for?"
The query was unanswerable.

A little while after that he was sent to the post office, then next to the Norway Post Store. Iza T. Howe, then postmistress, noticed him idling about, and in sympathy for the neglected lad, gave him a handful of lemon drops, with an injunction to run home. After a while, she heard a shuffling at the window, and looking out, saw Fred.
"What do you want, Freddie?" she asked.

"Want more; ain't got enough," was the insistent reply. I am sorry life has gone badly with him. He had the brains to amount to something—but by chance.

—Don C. Seitz.
The above brings to mind Fred's adventure with the court and politics of a later date.
During a lurid campaign, Fred alighted from a train at West Paris, heavily surcharged with liquor, and was taken to Norway. When I came before Judge Judge H. C. Davis of the Norway Municipal Court, he was charged with intoxication and obstructing traffic in the public streets of West Paris. Fred demurred and pleaded not guilty. The court thought differently and sentenced him to thirty days in Paris jail.

While there, a friend called and expressed surprise at his being confined in the County's stone and brick castle, and asked him why it was so, and how it happened.
"You see," said Fred, "I was up at West Paris and a traveling in the street. Some one of those bugs asked about my politics and I told 'em I was a Democrat. I was immediately arrested and taken to Norway. When I came before Judge Judge H. C. Davis of the Norway Municipal Court, he was charged with intoxication and obstructing traffic in the public streets of West Paris. Fred demurred and pleaded not guilty. OXFORD

Observed Golden Wedding—Pastor Given Surprise Party—Guests in Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Saturday, April 4th, at their old home near Oxford Station which has been occupied several years by their son, Charles Hall, and family. Mrs. Hall was assisted in serving by members of the family. Friends and neighbors gathered in the afternoon to extend greetings and the honored guests received many beautiful cards and gifts. Supper was served to relatives, who numbered thirty-five.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall were married April 2, 1881, at Grafton, by Rev. Joseph Moulton, pastor of the Methodist Church. After the marriage, they lived a short time at Grafton, later returning to the home of Mr. Hall's parents, where they lived until a few years ago when they bought a small farm in Richville where they now reside.

Mr. Hall was born in Togus, June 20, 1855, son of Joseph and Esie Ann (Campbell) Hall. He was one of five children and has two brothers living, Joseph and Bert, both of Oxford. He is a member of Craigie Knights of Pythias and Oxford Grange. Mrs. Hall was born at Hanover, January 14, 1865, daughter of the late Hannah (Holt) Howard, and was one of four children, two others of whom are still living, Horace Howard of Greene and Anna Poland, Welchville. She is a member of Oxford Grange. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall were charter members of Oxford Grange, and Mr. Hall has two children, Charles Hall, Oxford Station, and Mrs. Walter Scribner, Welchville, and twelve grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are among the highly respected people in town, known by many kind neighbors and a host of friends are extending their congratulations. The following poem was composed by Mrs. Clara Dunn, Mrs. Edith Greenleaf, Mrs. Clara Brown, Mrs. Angie Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan, all former neighbors.

I wonder if there was any snow
When they first were long ago,
When the parson the maid was led
And all your friends and neighbors too,
Bringing gifts and rice and even a shawl,
With food to eat before you were wed.
We know how many little ones came
To keep home life from getting too tame,
And all your friends and neighbors too,
Bringing gifts and rice and even a shawl,
With food to eat before you were wed.

We know how many little ones came
To keep home life from getting too tame,
And all your friends and neighbors too,

What Uncle Lem Says

The Legislature has at last adjourned without passing any substantial measures for the relief of the taxpayers of the state. While it's in the air all over the country for the reduction of expenses and the demand from the rural districts for relief is universal, little attention was paid to it. Despite the warning of two years ago, the Legislature has again gone up on the people's backs, imposed a tax of five cents a gallon on gasoline, but a referendum on the measure will doubtless be voted on in September, and this will be overwhelmingly beaten as it should be. The significant thing, however, about the act is that Senator Andrew Jackson of Cumberland County has introduced a bill to amend the constitution, through the "pork barrel fund," controlled the vote in the Senate. It's high time the people should know whether they are at the mercy of any such mischief-makers who are always to control legislation in the interest of paper kings. But more of this at another time.

It will be noted that the Legislature, in regard to the formation of the Congressional Districts, adopted the precise plan of your Uncle Lemuel, which he advocated in the Advertiser many weeks before the matter was agitated in the state. Oxford County is now a part of the Cumberland-York District, and all indicated thereto at a Probate Court to be held at Paris on the 15th of April, A. D. 1931, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and the hour thereafter if they see cause.

That notice thereof be given to all persons interested by causing a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the Norway Advertiser, a newspaper published at Norway, Maine, and all indicated thereto at a Probate Court to be held at Paris on the 15th of April, A. D. 1931, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and the hour thereafter if they see cause.

Maine's Population

Census Shows Tide Coming In

The census of 1930 shows some encouraging figures for the State of Maine. While the gain in population was not large, it was large enough to show that the tide is coming this way. While the cotton mill cities of Massachusetts decreased in population by the thousands, Lewiston, the chief cotton manufacturing city of Maine shows a substantial increase. Biddeford-Saco, the second center of cotton manufacturing held its own. Augusta, the state capital, made the largest gain in its history. Bangor and Waterville showed a larger growth than for several decades.

Portland, the metropolis, made a relatively poor showing, but its nearest suburb of South Portland led all other cities in the state. Portland, South Portland, Westbrook, Scarborough, Cape Elizabeth, Falmouth and Gorham, which might be said to comprise the Portland Metropolitan District, together made nearly as large a gain as in the census of 1920.

Had it not been for the heavy decrease in population at Bath and the far eastern counties, the total gain for the state would have been very much larger. Madawaska, Oxford, Penobscot and Somerset counties made much larger gains than in 1920. Knox County, which showed a large decrease in 1920, made a substantial gain in 1930.

Aroostook county made its usual steady growth and now has four towns of over 5,000 people. Caribou is the largest, followed by Presque Isle, Houlton and Fort Kent. Fort Kent and Van Buren each have over 4,500 inhabitants. Madawaska, with its paper mills will undoubtedly join the large towns of Northern Maine.

Oxford county made a fine showing with many of the smaller towns for the first time in years, showing an increase in population. Woodstock for the first time since 1860, shows an increase. Rumford has gone into the 10,000 class, leaving only ten cities and towns in Maine with a larger population.

With its vast area as large as the other five New England states and rich in natural resources, Maine could easily support a population of several million and not be overcrowded.

No one can tell with any degree of certainty what changes the future may bring. It is evident, however, that the development of Maine is only just beginning and that the years to come are likely to bring greater developments than have been made in the past. Portland, with its splendid harbor and the natural trade and distributing center for more than half the area of New England would seem destined to develop into one of the great cities of the Atlantic seaboard.

Bangor and Lewiston may reach the 100,000 class in the years to come. Like California at the other corner of the nation, Maine is looking forward to great developments and a large increase in population, but like California it wants only the best kind of citizens. It wants only those people to come who will live here and all the good things she has to offer. She wants only those citizens who will boost as hard for the Sunrise state of the East as the new citizens of California boost for the Golden State of the West.

FIRST U. S. EXPERIMENTAL FOREST ESTABLISHED IN WHITE MOUNTAINS

Establishment of the Gale River Experimental Forest, a few miles west of Mt. Washington, the highest peak in New England, has been announced by R. Y. Stuart, Chief Forester of the United States Department of Agriculture. This forest tract is within the White Mountain National Forest in New Hampshire and is the first experimental forest to be officially established under the new regulation, by which the Forest Service is to designate primitive, natural and experimental areas representative of the various forest regions of the United States.

Forest includes approximately 1200 acres. The area lies between two state automobile highways, making the tract readily accessible for research. Although it is only now being formally set aside for research work, investigations have been under way on this Experimental Forest since July, 1927. The Northeastern Forest Experiment Station of the United States Forest Service with headquarters at Amherst, Mass., plans to develop this area very rapidly within the next few years, placing within it much of its permanent sample plot work.

The forest is located in the spruce-hardwood belt, and is conveniently located for study of the pulpwood forest problems of New England.

Waterford—W. H. Brown to Willis Littlefield, both of Waterford. Parcel on westerly side of the road leading from North Waterford to East Stoneham, and being the northeastern corner of land bought of Charles and Nelson Fox. Crooked River to a bridge is one boundary. Consideration $7500.

NATION'S TYPICAL BOY AND DOG SOUGHT

$250 Prize and Fame Offered Chosen Pair by Kennel Foundation

Wanted—America's typical boy and dog! The Kennel Foundation, Beckford, Illinois, in its search for the nation's typical youngster and canine pet, has appealed to the Advertiser for aid in finding them if they happen to be located in this section.

Two hundred and fifty dollars in cash and immortality by having their likenesses reproduced in oils on canvas by a famous artist await the chosen pair, which the Foundation is anxious to preserve for the inspiration of future generations as a symbol of the high type of companion ship represented by the boy-dog combination of our own day. The winning team will also be presented to many notables, will probably be starred on the radio and in the movies, and in general enjoy the plaudits of an admiring multitude.

Selection of the winning pair is to be left in the hands of a jury of prominent men and women, which is now being completed. The choice is to be made from nominations which the public is invited to submit to the Foundation prior to Sept. 15, 1931. Photographs of the contestants must be submitted with the nominations, but a final decision will not be made by the judges until they have seen and investigated the leading candidates.

To be eligible for nomination to the boy-and-dog contest, a youngster must not be under four or over fourteen years of age. The dog must be his own or that of a member of his immediate family. The age, size, color or breed of the dog are of secondary importance.

In inaugurating the boy-dog search, I. J. Broome, director of the Foundation, stated: "Character building in the young is one of the great problems of the times. The Foundation is convinced that encouraging every home with a boy to keep a pure-bred dog, a recent study of a large penal institution revealed the fact that less than one per cent. of its formative years. Through the boy-dog contest, the Foundation hopes to cultivate the spirit of this comradeship and perpetuate it in some tangible form for this and future generations."

MASSACHUSETTS MAN KILLS 70 RATS IN ONE NIGHT

K-R-O (Kills Rats Only) writes Mr. Mansfield, Mass., brought this remarkable result.

K-R-O is the original exterminator made from oven-dried squill, an ingredient recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as sure death to rats and mice, but not deadly to dogs, cats, poultry or even baby chicks. You can depend on K-R-O, and therefore it has become America's leading rat exterminator in just a few years. Sold by all druggists, a poultry supply, seed houses, on a money-back guarantee.

The Spreader

with the Beater on the Axle

THE JOHN DEERE SPREADER is the only one combining these advantages:

1. High Drive Wheels, combined with a low box—easier on both horses and the man.

2. A Spreader that can be properly loaded—flat on top—either from the sides or from the back.

3. A Beater that is near the ground—winds do not cause drifting of the manure.

4. An Extremely Simple Spreader—no clutches, no chains, only about half the parts required on old style spreaders.

5. The Main Working Parts are mounted on the rear axle where they can't get out of alignment—no counter-shafts.

6. Costs no more than inferior Spreaders.

Buying Needed Implements Is Real Thrift

Doing without needed implements is like doing without needed food—it never pays.

You are going to keep on farming. You will want to carry on the work as economically as possible; save maximum time and labor, produce more per acre, cut the cost of production per bushel, per ton and per acre.

'Good implements will enable you to do that. Give them serious consideration now.

Come to our store and look over our implements and machines. Take plenty of time to consider them carefully. Measure their qualities against your needs. See them in their true light; as good, profitable investments; as the means by which you can make more profit from your future farming.

Come in any time and see our stock.
